[The Reader will be pleased to observe, that many names of articles in the following Index, must be sought for under the same general heads as those adopted in the Examiner. Thus the reviews of books he will find under the head of "LITERARY NOTICES;" the remarks on works of art, exhibition of pictures, &c. under that of "FINE ARTS;" the dramatic critiques under that of "THEATRICAL EXAMINER;" the chief political articles under that of "POLITICAL EXAMINER," or under the date of "London;" the foreign news either included in "FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE," or in the SUMMARY OF NEWS, headed "London" (where it is placed when it arrives very near the time of publication); the occurrences in the country, including assizes, under the head of "PROVINCIAL INTELLIGENCE;" the trials in the metropolitan courts under the head of "LAW;" communications from correspondents included in the title of "LETTERS TO THE EDITOR;" the other heads explain themselves; and the miscellaneous articles, which do not come under any general classification, will all be found according to the initials of their titles. Still, when any thing of special importance occurs (such as the Manchester affair), it is frequently made a subject of itself, and taken from the usual heads; which plan will be of course followed in the Index.]
